Introduction:

ICELT 2018 is the 1st International Conference on English Literature, Linguistics and Teaching being organized by the Department of English, University of Education, Lahore.

English language proficiency has fast become an important prerequisite of the globalized and digitalized world. Scholars and professionals are working diligently to advance research in the field of English literature, linguistics and English Language Teaching (ELT).

The conference aims to bring together leading academics, researchers and scholars to exchange and share their experiences and research results on all aspects of English Literature and Linguistics. Under the umbrella of Interaction in English: Cross-cultural awareness and communication, the conference will capture three prominent thematic areas associated with English Language;

- i. Tracing the journey of English Literature along new pathways and cross-cultural awareness through the literary works of emerging and renowned authors written in diverse forms on most pressing global issues.
- ii. The learning of linguistics to bring substantial changes in the usage of phonology, syntax and semantics that helps improving one's linguistic and communication competence.
- iii. The role that English Language Teaching plays in enabling teachers to be more competent and creative in assembling, selecting and adapting the materials and methods for the diverse classroom needs.

Objectives:

- ☒ Providing an opportunity to a diverse group of scholars, practitioners and researchers, to interact, network and benefit from each other's research and expertise in the age of globalization and digitalization.
- ☒ Encouraging greater regional co-operation regarding research in literature, linguistics and ELT.
- ☒ Publishing research papers in high quality journals.
